Zhukov To Get New Job, So Says Boss Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—The ousted minister of defense, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, will be given another job, Nikita Khrushchev said tonight.

"We have not decided on a new job for him yet but he will have one according to his experience and qualifications," Khrushchev told reporters at a Turkish Embassy reception.

"I saw Marshal Zhukov today. I spoke to him. He was in good health."

Prior to Khrushchev's announcement, indications had been growing that Zhukov had rallied unexpected support in a showdown battle over policies within the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party.

The delay in announcing a decision on whether Zhukov would remain a member of the ruling party Presidium, or Politburo, contributed to an impression that a battle was on between the marshal and Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

The impression was heightened by the tight Moscow censorship. Even the Communist press outside the Soviet Union seemed confused by the blackout.

Editorials in the Communist press indicated the marshal was being accused of interfering with party control of the army.

The lack of an announcement suggested he may have staged a counter attack in the party's central committee meeting.

It seemed clear that Zhukov and Khrushchev had clashed at least on three points:

1. Zhukov, a professional soldier, had sought to hold down the influence of Communist political workers in the ranks of the armed forces.

2. Zhukov had insisted loudly that anyone else on the rehabilitation of the memories of Red army leaders purged as traitors by Stalin in the 1930s. The marshal apparently carried no personal guilt in these purges, but Khrushchev and other top party people presumably do.

3. Khrushchev's bold moves in the Middle East, particularly his fanning of the crisis over Syria, had aroused the instincts of caution of Zhukov and perhaps of other army men.

Khrushchev has been openly rattling the saber at Turkey and the United States, accusing them of plotting to attack Syria because of its new pro-Communist orientation.

Zhukov has in the past been pictured as a conservative army man without inclination to take risks of war.

The Central Committee of the Communist party, which has been meeting off and on ever since Zhukov was ousted Saturday, had been expected to make an important announcement today.

Reports reaching London indicated it would tell of Zhukov's removal from the 15-man party Presidium, its all-powerful politburo of which he became a full member only four months ago.

BUT BOTH Moscow radio and the Moscow press remained silent. Hints filtered through the tight censorship in the Soviet capital that the committee was still grappling with its problems after an all-night session.

Editors of Moscow newspapers were called Monday to a conference at which Western observers believed they were briefed on the expected announcement.

All the papers went to press this morning, however, with no mention of either Zhukov or the Central Committee meeting.

Time Claimed 'Running Out' For U.S. Cold War Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrialist David Sarnoff, said today that time for victory in the cold war is running out under the pressure of Soviet success in weapon technology.

"If we are to win the cold war, or at least obtain the upper hand in it, it must be done before mankind is overwhelmed by the holocaust of hydrogen war," Sarnoff said.

Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corp. of America and a retired Army brigadier general, spoke at the annual meeting of the Assn. of the Army of the United States.

Sarnoff said the Moscow announcement last August of a successful test of an intercontinental ballistic missile "may be exaggerated but it is not safe to rely on that assumption."

Perfection of an ICBM is inevitable because "both sides know its principle," said Sarnoff.

It is only a matter of time—"within five years and possibly sooner"—that both Russia and the United States will have mass production of the transoceanic missiles, he predicted.

THEN WILL COME "dreadful parity," Sarnoff forecast. He contended that the logic of not starting a war with those weapons might not be a restraining influence—"emotion, raised to a pitch of hysteria by the very magnitude of the menace, may vanquish reason."

In another address, Dr. Willard F. Libby, atomic energy commissioner, told of the progress in educating the civilian population to the realities of nuclear warfare.

"It has been pleasing to notice," he said, "how the newspapers and the communication media have helped in telling people about radioactive fallout."

"Three years ago, there were hardly 100 people in the world outside the atomic energy projects who had a clear understanding of the nature of radioactive fallout. Now I think it would be safe to say that perhaps one-third of the people in the Western world have a fairly clear understanding. A recent poll indicated that as many as half of the people in the United States understood the rudiments."

Zhukov's Lone Wolf Ideas Seen Cause of His Ouster

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One charge being made against Marshal Georgi Zhukov in Moscow apparently is that as commander of the armed forces he wanted to run his own show without being undercut by Nikita Khrushchev.

When Police Chief Lavrenty Beria was purged in June 1953 and executed, one of his "crimes" was that he wanted to run his own police show without behind-the-back interference from the Communist party apparatus headed by Khrushchev.

But in the Soviet Union all shows are run by the Communist party. It maintains the right to control all organizations—not just through their official chiefs but also by dealing directly with party representatives within the organizations.

A Moscow dispatch in the London Daily Worker said Zhukov was charged at a session of the party Central Committee with hindering the work of Communist party organizations in the Soviet army.

The British Communist newspaper went on to say that Zhukov was using his position in the army to boost himself personally and that the head of the army's political department consequently appealed to the central committee.

The Worker's article reflects the propaganda line being handed out by Russian Communist party spokesmen in Moscow to foreign Communists.

The phrase "hindering the work of Communist party organizations in the army" means simply that Zhukov was insisting that political officers in the army should deal with Khrushchev's Central Communist party apparatus only through the high command the marshal headed. In other words, Zhukov was demanding the right of the Soviet high command to control the armed forces.

In the Soviet Union who controls the army also controls the country. Khrushchev decided it would be himself.

Arms Research Cuts Outlawed

New Defense Chief Reverses Old Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has ordered the military services to make no cuts in the $1.7 billion which Congress voted for basic research in the current fiscal year.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, who took office Oct. 10, Monday announced modification of an Aug. 17 economy memorandum issued by his predecessor Charles E. Wilson.

The Wilson memo had the effect of curtailing some basic research spending, although Pentagon aides said this had not been intended.

Wilson's Aug. 17 memorandum told the services to cut their spending by an amount equal to 10 per cent of the $1.7 billion approved for basic research.

A spokesman said Wilson had intended that the reductions be made out of $3.6 billion set up for procurement and production in research and development, rather than trimming basic research funds.

But the interpretation the various services attached to the memorandum resulted, in the end in the curtailment of basic research spending.

MEANWHILE, Russia's Sputnik, a major factor in the quickening interest in U. S. research, silently orbited the earth at 18,000 m.p.h. It was launched Oct. 4.

The sphere's radio ceased transmissions four days ago, and there have been no U. S. sightings either of Sputnik or of its rocket section in the last few days because their orbits do not now bring them across this continent during twilight or dawn.

The Army disclosed Monday that its new Hawk missile has a radar device that ignores stationary objects and speeds the weapon toward moving aerial targets. The Army said the Hawk can destroy invading aircraft even at treetop level.

Judge's Son Robs Bank For 'Kicks'

CANTON (AP)—A judge's son who said he craved excitement was jailed Monday night for stealing $20,000 in a weekend burglary of a bank where he worked as a teller.

Emmett D. Graybill Jr., 25, son of a Massillon municipal judge, was accused of taking the money from a drive-in branch of the Harter Bank & Trust Co.

Police said he confessed the theft and led them to the spot in Massillon where he had buried the money in a tin can. They recovered most of it.

John B. Root, vice president of the bank, who discovered the shortage in a special audit Monday, said he was shocked at Graybill's confession.

"He told me he didn't need the money. He said he didn't know why he stole it. He said it gave him a good feeling—the excitement of it."

Graybill had worked for 14 months as one of three employees in the drive-in branch across the street from the bank's main downtown office. Unmarried, he had lived with his father in Massillon until recently, then moved to an apartment in Canton.

Root said the youth was investigated thoroughly before he was hired and had a clean record. He said it was just chance that Graybill was the first of the employees to be questioned by police.

He is scheduled to appear today before a U. S. commissioner.

NATO Trials Said Not Tied to Turkey

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Lauris Norstad said today NATO maneuvers opening Thursday in the Mediterranean area will be well separated from the Turkish-Syrian tension area.

The supreme Allied command issued a statement following Middle East press charges that the maneuvers were a form of pressure against Syria on behalf of Turkey.

Royal Air Force planes and units of the U. S. 6th Fleet will stay west of a line drawn through the middle of Cyprus and there will be no flying over Turkey, Norstad said.

School Aid Bill Heads for Shelf

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal aid for school construction, twice turned down by Congress in the last two years, has been quietly ticketed for a House committee pigeonhole at the 1958 session.

A decision to drop the school aid fight temporarily was disclosed today by Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (D-WVa.), chairman of the House subcommittee on general education.

Politics, the bitter school segregation issue, and Democratic irritation with President Eisenhower's leadership in last session's school aid battle were all factors contributing to the decision, Bailey said.

As chairman of the House subcommittee controlling school legislation, Bailey said he intended to sit on the bill at the next session of Congress which opens in January.

"The administration had its chance last year," Bailey said, referring to the 208-203 House defeat handed a $1.1 billion aid bill which reflected most of the administration's proposals.

ON THIS VOTE, 111 Republicans and 97 Democrats teamed to kill the bill. Against killing it were 77 Republicans and 126 Democrats.

"First of all, the Eisenhower administration wants to make a political issue of school grants," Bailey declared. "An election year is a bad time to play politics with school needs."

While planning to drop general school assistance next year, Bailey said his subcommittee plans to continue special assistance to local school districts overburdened by pupils from federal defense and military activities.

This federal program of school aid to impacted areas has funneled around $1.2 billion in federal school construction funds into some 2,300 local school districts in the last six years.

Additional millions of dollars of federal aid have been spent for maintenance and operation of overcrowded buildings in impacted areas since the program began in 1951. The current budget provides approximately $69 million for this purpose.

The Williamsport School closed today for the remainder of the week. The Darby School has closed until Thursday morning. Grades one to eight were closed in the Pickaway Twp. school, also until Thursday morning. The township high school, however, is still open.

Four other county schools, Wayne, Scioto, Jackson, and Muenberg, which have been closed yesterday and today, are scheduled to reopen tomorrow morning.

The flu epidemic appeared to be subsiding today as far as city schools were concerned. Student absences were reported down to 344 for the morning session today.

City superintendent George Hartman said he considered the situation very much improved today. Absenteeism today amounted to 13.6 per cent of the city's 2,531 enrolled students. It was lowest daily absentee figure since the outbreak of the epidemic last week. A total of 404 students were absent yesterday.

A total of five city teachers are still reported to be out of school, because of illness or illness in their families.

Adenauer Urging Foreign Aid Plan

BONN, Germany (AP)—Launching his third term as West Germany's chancellor, Konrad Adenauer today called for a vigorous program of aid to underdeveloped countries of Asia and Africa.

The Bonn Republic, he said, feels "an incumbent obligation" to do what it can to help "those emergent countries where the desire for freedom and independence lives."

Coinciding with the decline of British and French prestige, West Germany already is pushing a trade offensive in Asia and Africa. A stronger government aid program has long been expected.

State Department Employee Gets New Job; Saud Gift OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Victor Purse changed jobs in the State Department today after official findings that he showed "bad judgment" but still legally may keep a gift car from King Saud.

His transfer from deputy chief protocol to a post in the Bureau of International Organization Affairs puts the 39-year-old Purse back in the line of work in which he started in the department 14 years ago.

The switch was announced Monday night by the department after two hearings. It climaxed a feud which had been quietly going on between the energetic Purse and his boss, Protocol Chief Wiley T. Buchanan.

The department announcement said Purse's new job was temporary "pending further consideration." It said it had been planned for months in the interest of Purse's career development, and had no direct relation to the acceptance by Purse's wife of a 1957 Oldsmobile from King Saud of Saudi Arabia last June.

But the department said the gift to the Purse family came without formal consultation with Purse's State Department superiors. It called that "an exercise of bad judgment on his part."

The formal announcement came after State Department spokesmen acknowledged that Secretary Dulles had accepted gifts from Saud—a gold wrist watch, an Arabian robe and a suitcase. Spokesmen said Dulles turned these items over to protocol to see whether he could keep them. But they refused to say whether Dulles later reclaimed them, as did more than a score of other department employees who enjoyed Saud's handouts.

These others included about 10 department security men who were assigned to Saud during the Middle East monarch's 10-day Washington visit last February. He gave them wrist watches and a total of $6,700 in cash. They eventually were allowed to keep the watches, but the cash still is being held pending a decision on whether it, too, can go to its intended recipients.

Contractor Ends Attempts To Win Battle

Private Hauler Takes over 202 Bidding Customers

George Bidinger's local garbage collection service has stopped.

The Canal Road dump is closed. Bidinger's collection trucks have been repossessed by the First National Bank of Waverly and Bidinger himself is leaving Circleville Friday.

Bidinger, who last January was awarded a contract with the city to collect garbage and refuse here exclusively, said today he has turned over his 202 customers to Roy Starkey, Town St.

Thus, the long bitter garbage dispute headed into a new phase. Friday, principals in Bidinger's $190,000 lawsuit against the city for failure to enforce the garbage ordinance, will appear in Common Pleas Court for depositions.

City Council passed the garbage ordinance last January. It called for the closing of the Route 22 dump and for award to the lowest bidder of an exclusive contract to haul garbage and refuse within the city.

BIDINGER was awarded the contract, but nine independent haulers asked for an injunction to prevent Bidinger from operating. A permanent injunction was not granted, but private haulers kept their routes and continued hauling, although the ordinance stated it was against the law for them to continue.

Some city officials refused to prosecute the private haulers. As a result, Bidinger did not gain the estimated 3,200 customers he thought would use his service.

Earlier this month Bidinger filed a $190,000 suit against the city and city officials for failure to enforce the ordinance.

Bidinger said today, "I want to thank all the good people of Circleville who supported me while I was here. Roy Starkey will collect on the same schedule as my trucks did. He's a good man and I hope you all will support him."

He said, "I've lost money for seven months. I've lost my equipment. I'm leaving town after Friday's court session, heading for my home at New Philadelphia."

Meanwhile, the County Board of Health has heard a complaint from six persons regarding the "unhealthful" conditions at the now-closed Bidinger dump on Canal Road.

The Board of Health went into a recess session last Friday and will reconvene at 2 p. m. Thursday to continue with the complaint.

BIDINGER's dump is located on the Charles Buskirk property along Canal Road about a mile south of Route 22.

The private haulers have been dumping garbage and refuse on the Barthelmas property, about a half-mile south of the Old Canal Road on Route 104. Starkey plans to use the Barthelmas dump, also.

Israeli Leader Hurt by Grenade

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC correspondent Joe Jacobs reported from Jerusalem a hand grenade was thrown in the Israeli Parliament today slightly injuring Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

Another Cabinet minister, Moshe Shapiro, was gravely injured, the correspondent said.

He said the grenade was thrown from a balcony onto the Parliament floor. The would-be assassin he added, was arrested by officials who said he was mentally deranged and had no political connections.

Bloodhounds Join In California Hunt

REDDING, Calif. (AP)—Bloodhounds today joined hundreds of persons looking for a 3-year-old girl who can't hear or answer their cries. She's a deaf-mute.

Barefooted and wearing a tee-shirt and blue jeans, Sarah Ann Dobbs, accompanied by two pups, apparently wandered away from her home in rough brush country a mile north of Redding.

The area is honeycombed with abandoned mine shafts and open pits where men once sought gold.

Free World Said 'Alert'

Maneuver Claim Tied To Internal Upheaval

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today that in a period of domestic Russian upheaval the United States and the rest of the free world must be on the alert for possible foreign moves by the Soviet.

Dulles told a news conference he would not want to give the impression that war is just around the corner. He said he does not really think that is true.

But whenever a great nation has internal troubles, he said, it is historical fact that such troubles lead to external acts. Under such conditions, Dulles said, the United States is always on the alert for what the Soviet Union might do.

The present situation, revolving around the mystery of the reasons for Marshal Georgi Zhukov's dismissal as defense minister, has not required any special alert, Dulles said, because all the top people in the U. S. government are aware of the possibilities.

Dulles also made these statements on the current Soviet situation and other international issues:

1. If President Eisenhower is invited to attend the NATO Council meeting in Paris in December he will give the invitation sympathetic consideration.

2. IF THE SOVIET government proposed Marshal Zhukov as ambassador to Washington, it would be up to Eisenhower to determine whether he was acceptable because the President always makes decisions on ambassadors. There has been some speculation that the Russians might make such a proposal. Zhukov and Eisenhower were associated in World War II.

3. Projected new division of defense duties among the United States and its allies will not involve any reduction in defense spending in this country but may mean some shifting of funds among military projects. Dulles also said the United States intends to maintain its manpower commitments in Europe and the Far East.

Toledo Teamsters Pull Out of AFL

TOLEDO (AP)—Teamsters Joint Council 44 Monday withdrew from the city and state AFL.

President Lawrence Steinberg said the Toledo Teamsters, with 15,000 members in five locals, had no alternative after Thursday's suspension of the international union by the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

The Toledo council was believed to be the first in the nation to suspend itself from state and local AFL bodies.

Pumpkin Show Lauded by Akron Man

Praise for the Pumpkin Show came this week to the Circleville Chamber of Commerce from Henry H. Varner, Akron.

Varner, unsolicited, wrote to the president of the C of C:

"I visited the Pumpkin Show Saturday night, Oct. 19, 1957 and despite chilly weather enjoyed all the exhibits and displays, and had a grand time."

"Being a follower of fairs and large traveling amusement organizations, I see a great valuable publicity program for your community in the Circleville Pumpkin Show."

"I have made the most prominent of fairs both in this country and Canada. To me Circleville has a place alongside of Brockton, Mass. and Pomona, Calif."

"The great and illustrious Theodore Friedman (Ted Lewis) should be proud of his 'Home Town', and its interest in showmanship."

"May I once again thank you for the sights of a grand exhibition, and the courtesies extended me by everyone there."

Montelius' Seascope Wins At Chillicothe

Harry E. Montelius, Route 1, won the grand prize at the Chillicothe Art League's exhibit last weekend. He won with his oil painting "Gloucester Seascope" which also took first in the oil painting class. He also won second in the watercolor class with his "Sunset Across the Harbor."

Circleville people will remember that these paintings were on display in the courthouse in the recent exhibit of the Circleville Art League.

Other winners included Miss Ruth E. Montelius who tied for third in oil with her "Stable Boy" with Mrs. Gene Kuhns' "On the Table". Miss Montelius also won third in the watercolor class with "Highlights and Reflections". Mrs. Gene Kuhns won honorable mention in the miscellaneous class with her charcoal "Student At Work".

Incidentally this is Montelius' fourth grand prize—he has won the top honor two times before with the Chillicothe League and once with the Circleville League.

Montelius has been painting just seven years. He visited New Orleans' French Quarter and saw the artists at work there, which inspired him to start. He has virtually taught himself.

Generally Fair To Continue Here

Clear skies and slightly chilly temperature prevailed in Circleville early today.

The weatherman said the skies would remain sunny today and probably tomorrow with temperatures slightly on the warmer side.

Yesterday's high reached 55 with a low of 30 recorded last night. Low tonight probably will range between 34-42 and tomorrow's high is expected to reach the 60's.

Columbus State School Damaged by Flames

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fire swept through the third floor of a vacant building at Columbus State School for 45 minutes Monday night before firemen brought it under control. The flames caused an estimated $4,000 damage to the 80-year-old, three-story brick building. Firemen said the fire's origin has not been determined.

Court St. Traffic Being Detoured

Traffic on N. Court St. in the vicinity of York St. and Hayward Ave. was closed yesterday and today due to installation of a 2-inch water line. City officials said the line was being run to a residence in that area.

Northbound vehicles can turn left at York St., turn right on the north extension of Scioto St., travel on to Hayward Ave. and turn right back to Court St.

The detour probably will be lifted tomorrow evening.

Deaths AND FUNERALS

MRS. CORA M. CROWNOVER

Mrs. Cora M. Crowover, 79, Route 1, Mt. Sterling (near Crownover Mill) died at 4 a. m. today in Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington C. H. She had been in failing health for the past year.

Born in Pickaway County Jan. 17, 1878 she was the daughter of Christopher and Nancy Anderson Hanawalt. She had lived all her life in the Crownover Mill Community.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Francis Ater and one son, J. Lehr Crowover, three grandchildren and one great grandchild; there is also a brother who survives, Ray Hanawalt, Williamsport.

She was a member of Hebron Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at the residence. Burial will be in Mt. Sterling Cemetery under the direction of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland.

Friends may call at the residence after 7 p. m. today.

MRS. WILLIAM CONGROVE

Mrs. Amanda Oiler Congrove, 86, Adelphi, died today at 2 a. m. in the Chillicothe Hospital as a result of a broken hip suffered two weeks ago.

Born Oct. 28, 1871, she lived only a few hours after her birthday.

She was married March 1, 1887 to William Congrove, now deceased.

Survivors include two sons, Harley Congrove, Laurelville Community and Herman Congrove, Kingston, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Seymour, near Kingston.

Plans for the funeral service are being completed by the Hill Funeral Home, Kingston.

Pickaway's Auto Tax Share Due

Pickaway County's share in the final distribution of $10,323,149.79 in motor vehicle registration fees, collected in 1956, will be $48,167.68, according to information released today by George C. Braden, Registrar of the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

An additional distribution of $3,302,014.07 representing 9 per cent county and 5 per cent township road mileage funds will be released soon, Braden said.

This will bring the total state distribution of 1956 registration fees to $59,858,814.76 as against $56,085,792.31 for the previous year.

Grocer Dies In Gun Duel With Bandits

AKRON (AP)—Russell L. Foutty, 46, was shot to death Monday night in an apparent robbery attempt as he was putting his car away after driving home with the day's receipts from his grocery.

Police said that before Foutty died he shot and critically wounded one of his assailants, but the others escaped in an automobile.

Richard Miller, 26, of suburban Portage Lakes, is in Akron General Hospital with a bullet wound in the chest. Police said they had been seeking him as a parole violator since Jan. 1.

Three men were sought today as Miller's accomplices in the Foutty slaying.

The other robbers fled following the exchange of shots without taking Foutty's money. In his pockets were found $1,574.

A neighbor, who did not hear the shots, found Foutty dead beside the driveway, and Miller wounded in Foutty's back yard. A loaded, unfired .32 revolver was found beside Miller.

Foutty's two children—Penny, 6, and Russell Jr., 8—raced to the back door just in time to see their father shot down.

"I saw daddy on his knees shooting his gun," Penny said.

Ashville Man's Car Is Ransacked

Harry J. Brown, Route 2, Ashville, reported that his car, parked in front of his home, was ransacked.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey said the intruders also made an unsuccessful attempt to remove a battery from the car.

According to Brown it was the second such incident in two weeks involving his auto.

Name Corrected

The name of a surviving daughter of the late Mrs. Francis Brown was incorrectly listed in the funeral notice in yesterday's Herald as Mrs. Lydia Stout. The correct name is Mrs. Lydia Stamp, of 3rd Avenue.

Stock Market Warning of Leveling-Off

Message Is Noted
Coming to Business
Since Middle of July

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market has been telling us since mid July that businessmen are expecting a leveling off or mild retreat from the long business boom.

Stock traders felt that if such a dip in business activity and earnings was in the works, then most stocks were overpriced.

They have a number of items in today's news to bear out their fears that bullish times may be ending for a while.

The question today is whether the correction in stock prices since mid July has gone far enough—has fully discounted in advance the business recession which may or may not be aborning.

Some think the market has over discounted the chances of a recession—that the big snapback last Wednesday marked the end of the price drop.

Since the stock exchange is an auction market in which some want to buy and some want to sell, there are many who feel just the opposite. They hold that the stock price decline has still more distance to go before prices accurately mirror the chances of business being as good and earnings as high or higher next year.

Predictions about business are only a little more trustworthy than those about horse races. But there are a stick of them today to show what the Wall Street bears have been having in mind.

One hundred top industrial leaders have advised the Department of Commerce that they suspect a mild recession is starting and they expect it to last until the middle of next year at least.

The National Assn. of Purchasing Agents says its members are turning even more cautious now because new orders aren't coming at the rate they had hoped for.

Steel leaders are revising their estimates of fall and winter business. Some now feel that their output will stay about where it is now at around 80 per cent of capacity. A few weeks back the same ones were talking about a fall snapback that would bring production up to maybe 90 per cent of capacity.

A survey of 202 business and university economists by F. W. Dodge Corp. shows most of them looking for less industrial production in the months ahead but expecting prices to go right on rising.

Surveys of the expansion plans of industry show that more companies are now saying that they will spend less next year than this for new plants and equipment.

Even some Federal Reserve Board executives are saying that the boom seems to be ending.

It is these things that businessmen and government officials are saying now that the stock traders began worrying about last summer. They also noted that earnings statements, while still pleasant reading, aren't showing the same rising trend they have in previous years.

Police Seeking Man After Finding Cache

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today are searching for Glen Cole, 38, who, they said, cached $7,000 worth of stolen goods in his trailer north of here.

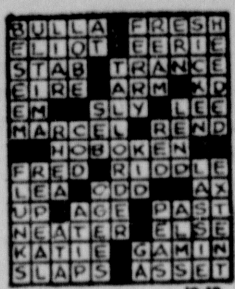

Detectives found the loot in his trailer Monday night, arrested Nola Mae Olsen, and charged her with receiving and concealing stolen property. Officers said the $7,000 was part of $12,000 in loot and cash taken in nine house burglaries since February. Police said Cole has served time in Branch Prison, Marquette, Mich., for armed robbery.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I would appreciate your opinion and advice on a subject that probably will be of interest to thousands of wives—the subject of conventions.

Formerly I had no qualms at all about my husband's going to conventions. Then, about two months ago, after having attended a convention in a Midwest city, he remarked that he and a few other men had gone to a nightspot "more risqué than usual," in an outlying district, where they drank with bar girls and watched a type of floor show that I consider immoral.

To me this is an awful thing for married men to do—and very unfair to their wives. My husband says that I make too much of a triviality. He says there is nothing wrong in a few businessmen having a look at this kind of night life; and that it "just isn't normal" for me to get so upset about it.

I can't describe the hurt I feel when I picture my husband drinking with a bar girl (a prostitute, really), and seeking that kind of association—even though he does nothing wrong.

I contend that all the drinking that goes on at conventions could cause a person to misbehave, as

U.S. Protocol Aide Gets Car from King

WASHINGTON (AP)—Victor Purse, outgoing State Department protocol aide, said today he accepted a gift car from King Saud to avoid appearing unfriendly.

Purse, who is stepping out as deputy chief of protocol in a feud with his superior, confirmed reports that King Saud of Saudi Arabia gave his family a 1957 Oldsmobile last June.

"I was overwhelmed at all the publicity," Purse said. "I thought everybody knew about it. It was certainly no secret. And I cleared it with the State Department's legal division."

Purse escorted Saud during the Middle East monarch's visit with President Eisenhower last January. Saud took Purse back to Saudi Arabia for several weeks.

Minnesota-Born Oilman, 65, Listed as Nation's Richest

NEW YORK (AP)—Jean Paul Getty, a Minnesota-born oilman, is the nation's richest man, according to a magazine survey published today.

Getty tops a list of 76 Americans with fortunes estimated at 75 million to a billion dollars. The survey, conducted by Fortune magazine, placed Getty, who will be 65 on Dec. 15, in the 700-million to a billion-dollar category.

The tall, well-built Oxford graduate in economics lives in Paris and Saudi Arabia. He runs the Tidewater Oil Co.

In London Getty said, "It doesn't make any difference to me personally if I am worth 5 million, or 200 million, or 1 billion or several billion dollars."

He said he doesn't know the exact total of his holdings but "would hope to get several billions" if he sold out.

"Remember," he added, "a billion dollars isn't worth what it used to be."

Getty was a millionaire in oil when he was 23. He said luck helped him get rich.

"In the depression I did what the experts said one should not do," he said. "I was a very big buyer of oil company stocks."

Getty has a home in Santa Monica, Calif., and business headquarters in Los Angeles.

He was born in Minneapolis, the son of a lawyer who moved to California and left 15 million dollars when he died in 1930.

Following Getty in the list were seven persons, including four from the Mellon family, in the 400-to-700-million-dollar category:

John D. Rockefeller Jr.; Mrs. Mellon Bruce of New York; Arthur Vining Davis, a founder and former chairman of the board of the Aluminum Co. of America; H. L. Hunt, the Texas oilman; Paul Mellon, son of the late Andrew Mellon; Richard King Mellon, a nephew of the former secretary of the treasury and president of the Mellon National Bank; and Mrs. Alan M. Scaife of Pittsburgh, a niece of the financier. The magazine found oil the

Fulton County Couple Wins Grange Honors

COLUMBUS (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bratton, of near Delta, have been named the Ohio Grange Couple of the Year.

The Fulton County couple, members of Aetna Grange, received the award at Monday's opening session of the Ohio State Grange's annual convention here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bratton, operators of a 105-acre farm, will compete with four other couples for the nation's top honors.

Cincinnati Attorney Faces Federal Charge

CINCINNATI (AP)—Attorney Arthur E. Siegel, 26, is free on $2,000 bond today pending a hearing on a federal charge of reusing internal revenue real estate tax stamps. Siegel surrendered voluntarily Monday for arraignment on a charge he removed a cancelled stamp from a deed filed in the county recorder's office and put it on another deed, keeping the $3 tax cost.

Auglaize County Home Inmate Found Dead

WAPAKONETA (AP)—Mrs. Alinda Weimeyer, 84, a resident of the Auglaize County home here was found dead Monday by sheriff's deputies in a field about a half mile north of the home.

Home Superintendent Forest Swartz said Mrs. Weimeyer was reported missing Sunday.

Coroner Dr. R. H. Schaefer said Mrs. Weimeyer probably died of exposure.

greatest single source of American wealth.

New York is still the chief habitat of the millionaire, according to Fortune, but oil-rich Texas is coming up fast.

Mellons, Du Ponts, Rockefellers and Fords dominate the list.

Those in the 200-to-400-million-dollar category include oilmen Sid Richardson of Fort Worth, Tex.; Irene du Pont of Wilmington, Del., and Cuba; William du Pont Jr. of Wilmington; Howard Hughes, Los Angeles; tool manufacturer, aircraft maker, and movie producer; Joseph P. Kennedy of Boston and New York former U. S. Ambassador to England; and Alfred P. Sloan Jr. of General Motors.

Six Rockefellers—David, John D. III, Laurance, Nelson and Winthrop, and Mrs. Jean Rockefeller Maude of New York—are in the 100-to-200-million-dollar category as is Mrs. Edsel Ford of Detroit.

Oilmen in the 100-to-200-million category include James Abercrombie of Houston; Jacob Blaustein of Baltimore; William Keck of Los Angeles; and Clint Murchison of Dallas.

Other familiar names in the class include real estate man Vincent Astor of New York; tobacco heiress Doris Duke; and John Hay Whitney, American ambassador to Britain.

Others in the 100-to-200-million bracket include Stephen Bechtel, a San Francisco construction man; Mrs. Alfred I. du Pont of Jacksonville and Wilmington; Arthur Hunt, a Pittsburgh aluminum man; William L. McKnight, a St. Paul, Minn., mining operator; and Lamont du Pont Copeland of Wilmington.

Also: Financier Clarence Dillon of New York; glass maker Arthur A. Houghton Jr. of New York; General Motors' Charles F. Kettering of Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. Chauncey McCormick of Chicago; Mrs. Charles Payson of New York; and General Motors' John L. Pratt of Fredericksburg, Va.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York is one of 31 in the 75-to-100-million-dollar category, as is Godfrey L. Cabot of Boston who is 96.

Kirk Douglas Getting Brave

Actor To Be Target
Of Mike Wallace

NEW YORK (AP)—Kirk Douglas believes that "every once in a while you have to stick your neck out."

On Saturday evening he appears on "The Mike Wallace Interview" (ABC-TV, 10 p.m., EST), thus becoming the first Hollywood star of the first magnitude to undergo Wallace's special brand of searing cross-examination.

The interview was filmed recently in Munich, Germany, where Douglas was making his new movie, "The Viking."

Douglas said the interview was completely impromptu and that Wallace "surprised me a few times. He plays a little rough, so I was a little rough too. I called him a snob—and I hope he didn't cut that out of the film."

"Frankly, I liked Mike better after the interview than before it. He seems able to take it as well as dish it out. It's true that some of his questions are unfair, but I think I see why he does that. He wants to throw you off balance."

"I think Wallace fulfills a worthwhile purpose. People are interested in people and Wallace tries to get to the truth about a person."

Douglas is remaining in New York to serve as narrator of a special two-hour TV show to be seen over NBC-TV Nov. 17. Then he's returning to Germany to finish editing "The Viking," which will be released in this country next spring.

United Nations Move

Moscow has been yelling long and loud about the Terrible Turks and "warmongering" Uncle Sam preparing to launch an attack on poor Syria. The reds even suggested that a United Nations army be dispatched to the scene to prevent the awful holocaust.

This attitude is not in the context of Khrushchev's sneering remark that Russia could gobble up Turkey in a couple of hours. But the Kremlin's clamor should remind the United Nations that it has a duty to perform. It should send a team of international observers to the Near East. Let it tell the world where aggression is being spawned.

Russia has sent arms to Syria and Egypt and has built up naval strength in the Mediterranean. The United States has supplied arms to several Near East nations and has a fleet in the Mediterranean.

Secretary Dulles seems to have given pause to Moscow with his warning that the United States will hold Russia accountable if Syria attacks Turkey or some other Near East country with communist arms. That may have had an ominous sound in world propaganda, but it was necessary.

All informed persons in international affairs know that Russia would attack anywhere, any time, if convinced the United States would not retaliate.

Meantime, the belief is growing that there will be no war until the Kremlin decides the situation promises complete victory. The Soviet leaders are talking beligerently to buck up the morale of the Russian people and help them forget their poor living conditions.

But the precarious peace is likely to be kept unless Moscow surrenders to madness.

Ladies Do Not Prefer Blondes

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (U)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That gentlemen may prefer blondes, but the ladies themselves don't. In a world survey Willard Gidwitz, president of Helene Curtis Co., found that chestnut brown is the most popular hair shade; nine out of ten women who dye their tresses, dye them brown.

That the shock from an electric eel is strong enough to fell a horse.

That only three municipalities in the United States begin with the letter "X". They are Xenia in Ohio and Illinois, and Xavier in Kansas.

That Benjamin Franklin conceived the idea and established the first permanent subscription library, mother of all the circulating libraries in America.

That the oddest dish ever served at Maxim's, famous Parisian restaurant, was a nude girl covered with pink sauce on a silver salver; naturally, the order was placed by an American.

That the tilt of the Leaning Tower of Pisa in Italy has increased a quarter of an inch in the last 15 years.

That one of the biggest selling fruits in America is the coffee bean, which, the chances are, you probably didn't know is actually a cherry.

That the longest word you can type out on one line of letters of a standard typewriter is—"Typewriter."

That it was Friedrich Karl Otto to Dibelius who observed, "power is like sea water. The more one drinks of it, the thirstier one gets."

That of the 1,886 colleges and universities in the United States

744 are controlled by religious groups. Protestant groups maintain 474, Roman Catholics 265 and Jewish organizations five.

That there are 15 cities and towns named Brooklyn in this country, but the one across the East River here is the only one that has 27 macaroni factories.

That bandleader Sammy Kaye says, "When a woman insists that a man treat her with consideration, she generally means a cash one."

That the National Safety Council lists the leading cause of death among infants under one year as "immaturity." Motor vehicles are the top cause of accidental death up to 65. After 65, it is falls.

That it was Sir William Osler who observed, "The desire to take medicine is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from the animals."

Russia Seeks To Absorb

By George Sokolsky

The battleground of this period in the war between the Soviet Universal State and the NATO group of nations is called the Middle East, an area which is described definitely in the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1957 as follows:

"For the purposes of this section, the term 'general area of the Middle East' means the area between and including (1) Libya on the west, (2) Turkey on the north, (3) Pakistan on the east, and (4) Saudi Arabia and Ethiopia on the south."

This is very broad and un-geographical but it serves to focus attention on the effort of Soviet Russia to surround, to isolate, and eventually to overcome Turkey, our best and perhaps only true ally in that part of the world. The Turkish government has given circulation to a map showing the situation of Turkey in 1941. The Nazis were in the Balkans and all southern Russia. Hitler had attempted to encircle Turkey by establishing a Nazi satellite government in Syria. That would have completed the circle and against that Turkey held out.

Today Turkey is faced by the same kind of encirclement. Although Greece and Turkey should be in alliance, Greece has been stirred up against Turkey over Cyprus which in the circumstances of the world today has become a snare and a nuisance. Bulgaria is a Russian satellite. Soviet Russia lies, opposite Turkey on the Black Sea and Syria has now become a Soviet satellite.

Turkey is surrounded by enemies and there can be little question but that Soviet Russia plans the reduction of Turkey to the status of Egypt, namely, that of a country whose independence depends upon Soviet good-will. Just as Nasser would like to get out of the trap which he forged for himself, so Turkey prefers not to have anything at all to do with Soviet Russia.

The question then arises what we, Turkey's principal ally and defender, are willing to do. We cannot say of Turkey, as we may of other allies, that the Turks did not come to our aid when needed. The Turks fought in Korea, by our side, with all that this small country was able to give. The Turks have been loyal to us. Are we going to be loyal to the Turks?

This could mean a general war. A very intelligent man once raised this question: Soviet Russia is a great distance ahead of us in the development of guided missiles and other non-conventional instruments of war. Is not this the right moment for the Russians to produce a sudden attack upon us, one that is so swift and damaging that retaliation becomes trivial in comparison with the damage done here?

To this I replied, "No!" There is a pattern to Soviet conduct which has been constant and or-

Patrolman Answers Query from Airplane

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U)—City Patrolman Larry Eversull has often been asked for directions—but never before from an airplane.

The light plane landed on a city street Monday evening near Eversull's patrol car and taxied over. The unidentified pilot leaned out and yelled he was "going to Montana" and where was the nearest airport.

The stunned policeman told him and the pilot took off.

"I should have given him a ticket," Eversull recalled too late.

thodox. This pattern would indicate that Soviet Russia does not destroy any of the physical equipment of the countries that she conquers. There is less an ambition to overthrow than to absorb.

To a materialistic Marxist it is ridiculous to burn down a church; it makes more sense to use it as a stable or as a club for young people. What would be the advantage, the materialistic advantage, of destroying Detroit or Pittsburgh when both cities are so useful in the production of goods and equipment? It would seem to me that the Russian program, particularly as devised by the humorist Khrushchev, would be:

1. To scare the countries of Western Europe and of the Mediterranean into rejecting American friendship as too expensive;
2. To create distrust of the American government within the United States;
3. To use Sputniks like neon signs to establish Russia's superiority in fields that used to be America's specialty;
4. To keep the Middle East in constant disorder;
5. To weaken our economy by keeping us permanently on a war basis;
6. To pour billions into our Stock Exchange operations through Zurich, Amsterdam and London, to keep the stock-market fluctuating like a roller-coaster.

If war comes, it will be accidental, but the above are the jobs that Soviet Russia expects will win the ultimate victory of reducing the West to a secondary position. If the United States is isolated without a fighting war, Soviet Russia has achieved its objective.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN SAN ANTONIO a group of retired Army officers organized a recreational center they call "The Henpecked Club." Into its quarters stormed an irate, 200-pound wife one evening, swept the poker chips onto the floor and pulled an ex-general out by the ear, screaming, "How dare you join a club with a revolting name like this? You're not henpecked!"

At the Chez Paree in Chicago, an opulent guest at a ringside table offered Joe E. Lewis a bunch of imported grapes. "No, sirree," said Lewis haughtily. "You don't catch me taking my wine in pills!"

There's a snobbish apartment house in St. Louis where dogs are allowed—but no children! Whenever tenants have a new baby, the first thing they have to do is to teach it to bark.

For Health Keep Happy Home

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

A peaceful home life is a healthful one. I'd like to help you keep your home both peaceful and healthy.

When you are emotionally upset, your health is bound to suffer. Ulcers, heart trouble, in fact most ailments, are aggravated by emotional outbursts.

The easiest way to avoid such outbursts of course, is to keep your home life as serene as possible. In other words, don't quarrel with your spouse and try to keep him from quarreling with you.

Sound impossible? Well, it can be done. And here's one way to do it:

The main thing is to keep your temper and remain quiet when your spouse sounds off at you about something which displeases him, or her (wives start arguments, too—sometimes).

Be a doormat, if you have to, but resist the temptation to defend yourself. The meek, remember, shall inherit the earth. And there's no better time to be meek than when it will help avoid a domestic argument.

Perhaps you don't deserve the wrath of your spouse, but take it anyway. On the other hand, maybe you should be chided. If that's the case, a tongue-lashing may do you some good.

If both husband and wife follow my advice, however, there can't be any arguments. Of course, this is just dreaming and I realize it. Gentleness coupled with kindness will beat any argument.

A full-fledged tantrum, however, might be something else again. Adults, like children, sometimes throw a tantrum in order to get what they want.

When this happens, just walk away and leave the boisterous one by himself. A tantrum just isn't worthwhile when there is no audience around to appreciate the display.

If there are a great many tantrums, psychiatric help may be indicated. The same holds true for the more quiet type of argument. A person who becomes angered with great frequency may need the help of a doctor.

H. M.: Is rabbit fever carried only by rabbits?

Answer: Tularemia or rabbit fever may be carried by animals other than rabbits. Squirrels, woodchucks, foxes and coyotes have been known to carry the disease.

Withdrawal of Poll Petition Said Possible

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Atty. Gen. Saxbe ruled today that signers of petitions for local option elections on sale of intoxicating liquors may withdraw their names at any time before the Board of Elections has ordered an election.

The opinion went to Prosecutor Randall Metcalf of Washington County.

Saxbe said in the opinion that a community should not be forced to accept a special election if petitioners wish the petition withdrawn.

The World Today

By ED CREAM

For James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (U)—What is this country going to call its satellite, once it launches one?

Sputnik II? No, somehow that doesn't quite ring the bell. Besides, it may be outmoded by the time we get our little ball up in the air.

How about "Kintups"? That's Sputnik spelled backward.

No? Then what do you suggest?

It's a problem to furrow the most wrinkled brows of the advertising experts on New York's Madison Ave., to say nothing of the equally crinkled brows of the phrase coiners in the Pentagon and elsewhere on the government payroll.

We're sort of half-way committed to the name "Vanguard," since that's the name of the U.S. satellite project. But the steam went out of that one long ago. "Vanguard" means that you're ahead of the other guy, and Sputnik gives the laugh to that idea daily—even if it has lost its heep.

But nobody ever calls anything by its right name in this country anyway. The Army's Vertol helicopter was promptly, and forever, rechristened "The Flying Banana." There probably is a correct name for a certain recoilless weapon which is handy against tanks, but nobody would know it by any other name than bazooka.

So Vanguard probably was doomed even before it became obsolete. The problem is to find a jaunty substitute which gives a Bronx cheer to the Russians. Somehow none of the suggestions which crop up in cocktail party conversations makes the cookie crumble, as some people may still be saying on Madison Ave.

We could call our gadget "Socialite," since it will—we trust move in the very best circles.

Or "Rover Boy."

Or "S. S. (for space ship) Ohyesweean."

Nope. You can hear the groans already, from here to Moscow. We could go back to the old myths. But with Thor, Jupiter and the other rockets already whooshing off, that field has been pretty thoroughly ploughed too.

Maybe the best idea would be to let the men in uniform decide on a satellite name. They have a flair for it. Remember the bombers of World War II: "Wabash Choo-Choo," "Little Eva," "Ding-Dong Daddy." To say nothing of those which caused some generals to blush and turn away.

You're Telling Me!

By HOYT KING
Central Press Writer

U. S. Navy scientists are thinking of a television station in outer space. All programs would be out of this world.

The aim of a television station in outer space would be to learn about the secrets of the universe. Maybe such as how some things get on TV.

Other scientific ideas include a TV station which would scan the earth. The earth has been examined closely from down here, and it's plain another viewpoint is in order.

The Russians are planning on having satellites in outer space, too. Apparently they want both varieties.

An outer space TV satellite would be equipped with a telescope. Or spyglass.

A fringe benefit like this could lead to almost anything.

Imagine the shock, watching earth on a TV program from outer space, and suddenly comes the message, "Due to difficulties beyond our control, the picture is out of order. The sound will continue."

Is Conversation a Lost Art? Not at Defenbaugh's

Foreign Visitors Excellent Talkers

Want the recipe for an evening of good conversation? Take three foreign graduate students, one from Argentina, one from Egypt and one from Holland, put them in the genial atmosphere of the big living room in the William Defenbaugh home and encourage them to express their views about America, the world in general and their own countries in particular.

Mr. and Mrs. Defenbaugh, Salt-creek Twp. had as their guests three of the 50 foreign graduate students visiting in Circleville this weekend under the sponsorship of the Circleville Rotary Club.

All three men were keen minded, well trained educators brought to the United States to observe the American system of education. One was a Roman Catholic, one a Moslem and one a Protestant without Church affiliation.

All were perfectly at home with the English language. All had divergent views on politics, religion and education.

On one thing however, all the men were in accord. When asked about American majorettes they said they felt that majoretting was a wholesome interesting institution without counterpart in any of their countries.

When told that New York columnist Inez Robb had "blushed for the country" when high stepping high kicking, scantily clothed majorettes had performed at a football game in the Queen's presence the three educators scoffed. From their attitude one gathered that they considered Miss Robb slightly "stuffed shirt".

Hector Urribeteberry, a language teacher from Argentina said that after all the Queen had some strange sights in her own country. He thought that majorettes were a far more lively form of entertainment than the changing of the guards in their traditional routine.

Urribeteberry said there was a vast difference in the girls of his own country and the girls he had met here. Girls in Argentina make an art of coquetry. They were shy, modest, hard to know. Girls here were straightforward, unshy, and acted more like boys.

The Argentine girls reach their peak of attractiveness after they are 25. American girls have their period of bloom between 15 and 20 the goodlooking young language teacher said.

Adrian Lucieer, principal of a secondary school in Enkhuzen Holland is proud of his country's system of education.

The ratio of illiteracy in Holland is one fifth of one percent. All schools have the same curriculum; all students the same examinations. In Holland after the elementary grades students are divided according to their capacity for learning.

In answer to Mrs. Defenbaugh's question about it's not being democratic Lucieer insisted that it was. He himself a teacher of math, physics and astronomy said the above average student in the United States should be given more opportunity - especially the science students. "Look at Sputnik" and take warning".

Lucieer felt that the American educators were over-emphasizing adjustment to life and at the expense of academic learning. If taken farther schools will become adjustment clinics instead of halls of learning he warned.

Women in Industry? "Dutch women stay home when they are married and raising families. Here in America the school is assuming responsibilities that are accepted by the homemakers in Holland."

Incidentally Lucieer's excellent English had been learned in a secondary school in Holland where students learn two or three foreign tongues. "It is necessary and we do it" he said and denied that the Dutch were especially gifted linguists.

Mohammed Abu Siry of Egypt was stunned and deeply hurt at the ignorance Americans displayed concerning the country of Egypt. "Imagine" he deplored, "I am constantly asked about veiled women and concubines. Polygamy is against the law. Veils were discarded in 1919."

"We are a neutral country", he said, "then went on to explain the Agrarian plan under which no farmer owns more than 200 acres or less than five acres. Abu Siry speaks brightly of his country's future, of the progress made since Egypt is no longer under British domination."

Abu Siry offered to send literature to anyone interested in his country.

Fall Dinners Feature Pork

By ALICE DENHOFF
King Features Syndicate

The tangy, aromatic foods of fall are nicely matched to sharpened appetites. But after the comparatively easy-to-fix salads and cold dishes of summer, some of us may find it a bit difficult to begin again to cook dishes that require more elaborate preparation.

There's no problem, however, if you serve something substantial like a kraut, pork and apple dinner.

For instance, a pie using these basic favorites is certain to please hearty appetites. It's low in cost, too.

To serve 6, heat 2 tbsp. salad oil. Add 1 lb. lean pork shoulder that has been diced. Cook until brown on all sides. Add a (1 lb. 11 oz.) can sauerkraut and 1 c. chopped onions. Also a medium-sized apple, cored and sliced.

Cover and cook 1 hr. or until pork is tender.

Meanwhile, prepare a (12-oz.) pkg. corn muffin mix according to directions on the package.

Turn kraut mixture into lightly-greased 2-qt. casserole.

Drop corn muffin batter by tablespoonful around edge of casserole.

Bake at 425 deg. F. 30 min. or until corn muffin mixture is done. Here's a real pork chop treat.

To serve 4, melt ¼ c. butter or margarine with ¼ c. currant jelly. Add 3 medium-sized apples cored and cut in rings and cook until browned.

Remove apple rings and add 4 loin pork chops to jelly mixture, browning lightly on both sides.

Meanwhile, combine a (1 lb.) can sauerkraut, drained, and 1 c. chopped onions. Place on top of chops.

Cook, covered, 30 min. over low heat.

Uncover and place apple rings

Annual Halloween Dance Held at Country Club

Costumes Show Real Ingenuity

Corn Shocks and Pumpkin faces carried out the Halloween theme indoors and outdoors at the Pickaway Country Club Dance, an annual affair held Saturday night at the clubhouse. Lighted pumpkin heads on small tables and cat faces covering the lights added further festive touches to the gala affair.

Thirty couples attended the juke box dance. Masqueraders were required to march through the clubhouse three times while judges picked the winning costumes.

Dr. David Goldschmidt dressed as the peanut man won the prize for the most unusual. Mrs. Goldschmidt, masquerading as a witch with black leather, the coat wears a casual air for either town or country.

Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, doughnuts and coffee completed the Halloween theme.

Women Golfers Elect Officers

An annual covered dish dinner and business meeting was held by Pickaway Country Club women golfers last Thursday. About 25 were present for the affair at which Mrs. Paul Adkins was named chairman; Mrs. C. K. Vaughan, co-chairman and Mrs. Lewis Young, secretary-treasurer.

No golf was played on account of the bad weather but members concluded the afternoon with games of bridge and euchre.

Responsible for the luncheon were Mrs. Robert Burton and Mrs. George Fuhrman.

Browns Here Again For Pumpkin Show

Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Brown and sons, Curtis, Shirlee, Jimmy and Donnie, Gary, Ind. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Brown, Route 1, Stoutsville, during Pumpkin Show weekend. In a letter to the Herald they expressed their thanks to Ned Dresbach Jr. for sending them a card reminding them of Pumpkin Show dates. The Browns have been in Gary for six years and have only missed one Pumpkin Show since they left Circleville.

Cleveland '11' Voted as Top Team in State

Benedictine Lauded With Massillon 2nd; Warren Drops to 3rd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland Benedictine moved right out front today in the race for Ohio's high school football championship. Warren Harding's season-long leaders skidded to third following a bizarre loss to Massillon.

Warren, despite the loss, slipped only to third place, knocking Cincinnati Purcell from that berth to fourth, although the Queen City club, highest scoring combine in the top 10, smothered Louisville (Ky.) Valley 46 to 0.

The 41 sports editors rating the teams today shoved Toledo De Vilbiss and Fremont Ross down a notch, to fifth and sixth respectively, as Massillon crowded into the upper bracket. De Vilbiss was a 32-0 winner over Lima, and Ross whipped Lorain 26-0.

Youngstown South defeated Sharon, Pa., 35-0 to go around Canton McKinley into seventh place, the defending champions taking eighth with a 14-6 squeaker over Alliance.

Troy, with a 60-26 win over Dayton Fairborn, stayed in ninth—the only team to hold its position—but unbeaten East Cleveland Shaw deposed Lancaster from 10th, although the Gales were 47-14 victors over Marietta.

Lancaster's fall to 22nd place was one of the poll's surprises, and cut the south's representation in the top 10 to two teams—Purcell and Troy. All others are from the north.

Cleveland Benedictine goes against once-beaten Cleveland Cathedral Latin Friday at Cleveland. Massillon plays Barborton's Magics, and Warren meets Lorain.

Fremont Ross, winner of 27 straight, goes against unbeaten but once-tied Marietta Harding Friday, with the Buckeye Conference drawn at stake.

Lorain, which meets Warren this week, gained only 99 yards in losing 26-0 to Fremont, as fullback John Level of Ross intercepted three passes. Ross has picked up 2,012 yards rushing in seven games and Level and halfback Jim Hailey have gained 1,621 of 'em.

Wellston's 33-14 win over Jackson for seven straight ended the losers' four-year domination of the Southeastern Ohio loop and gave the laurels to the Golden Rockets. Springfield Public ended a four-game losing streak by nosing out Toledo Libbey 15-14, a third-period

Here Are More News Briefs From Midwest Grid Camps

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest Football Briefs:

Iowa—The unbeaten Hawkeyes opened preparations for their biggest test of the season when they met Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday. Coach Forest Evashevski feels his team must improve 25 per cent to beat the Wolverines.

Illinois—Sophomore end Rich Kreitling returned to drills for the first time since suffering a back injury nine days ago. Guard Dave Ash, down with the flu, also participated.

Northwestern—Guard Jack Siatka and tackle Gene Gossage, both sidelined several weeks, were back in uniform and are expected to play against Ohio State.

Ohio State—Coach Woody Hayes is afraid of winless Northwestern. "We must play our best game of the season to win this one," said Hayes.

Michigan—End Dave Bowers has a dislocated shoulder and will probably be sidelined the rest of the season. Fullback John Herr-safety giving the Wildcats the winning margin.

Lancaster's Larry (Bomber) Baughman went 5, 30 and 34 yards for touchdowns—running his total to 14—against Marietta, and halfback Don Maddux scored on runs of 39, 33 and 64. Baughman has 919 yards for 109 carries.

Here is how Ohio sports editors rate the state's high school football teams. Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis, and the scoring records of the leaders.

Ashville Ready For Homecoming

Bronco Gridders Seek Third Win

Ashville's Broncos are all set for their homecoming tilt tonight with Jonathan Alder on Circleville High's gridiron. Kickoff is 8 p. m.

Pre-game and halftime activities will center around Miss Roberta Hardin, homecoming queen, and her court. Her attendants are Miss Lee Higgins, Linda Cummins, Mary Jo Bowers and Joy Trone.

The Broncos will be seeking their third win in six starts. According to Coach Russ Gregg his squad is near full strength for the important encounter.

Jonathan Alder, one of the strongest teams in the Darby Valley League, is expected to furnish plenty of opposition for the Broncos. The Ashville gridders, an explosive type squad on offense, are expected to center much effort on defense in hopes of stopping a strong Jonathan Alder ground attack.

The Broncos will be playing without the services of left halfback Dick Hoover, out for the season with a cracked bone in the foot.

Out Among the Stars -- What?

Travel Aboard Spaceships To Be Utterly Fantastic

Editor's Note—What is there in space that pulls the minds of men with more force than earth's gravity? Maybe it's just the same lure of the unknown that sent explorers across oceans and pioneers across plains. Whatever the reason, it's there. And since space is just around the corner, it's time to examine what's out there and how man can make his way through it. This is the first of four articles.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK — Your wrist watch tells you it is high noon. You glance out a porthole, and the sky is entirely black, save for awesomely brilliant, uninking stars.

Your nose itches. You reach to scratch, and slap your own face viciously... you forgot again about no gravity. Suddenly a too-loud ping echoes through the ship. You freeze in fright, wondering if a meteor made a hole... then relax, for no alarm signal sounds. Thirsty, you drink some water.

but not from a glass. It comes from a plastic squeeze bottle, with the nozzle carefully planted in your mouth.

For you are going to the moon or Mars board a spaceship, where life is fantastically different from earth.

The time—10 years among optimistically, maybe many more. Expert estimates vary.

But this is the promise now that the space age has opened with a little man-made moon circling the earth.

More little moons are coming, American as well as Russian, during the current International Geophysical Year.

They will discover actual space conditions and the hazards which partly will determine when and how humans go journeying safely through space.

Rocket and space experts have drawn the general plans, even designed ships and protective measures to vault humans to our sister planets... and home again.

It's only your second day out on this rocket hurtling through space. You're rapidly getting used to a most peculiar problem of weightlessness, from lack of gravity.

With no gravity, you feel like you are constantly falling into a bottomless pit. A slight push of your foot sends you flying into the air. Sneezes, and you'd fly backward to bang against a cabin wall.

Is that passenger across the cabin standing upside down — or are you? At meals, drop a piece of toast, and it hangs in the air. Your meat would be fastened to a plate, you might eat it by grabbing it with a clamp. The lift of a fork could send it flying to the ceiling.

But your ship preferably is spinning, creating centrifugal force to substitute for gravity. The direction "down" is the outer edge of your round, spinning spaceship.

Gravity gave you a bad moment, you recall, at take-off from earth. The quick acceleration from powerful rocket engines made you feel like lead, with a weight four to ten times greater than that of normal gravity.

But it was soon over and you taxied up to the space platform 500 miles above earth, dined there, and then boarded this ship for the journey to Mars.

You're aware, and glad of, the forced ventilation. Otherwise you might suffocate. If air has no weight, warm and cold air don't circulate automatically. The air you breathed out could stay right in front of your face, depriving you of oxygen.

Oxygen for a short moon trip comes perhaps from liquid oxygen, turning to gas as it warms up. On this many-weeks jaunt, a special greenhouse of algae or other plant life supplies the oxygen, using the carbon dioxide you breathed out.

You gaze out the porthole, and wonder how cold it is right outside in space. The captain explains: space has no temperature really as we ordinarily mean temperature. There's precious little air to heat up. The side of the ship exposed to the sun gets very hot, but the side in shadow is very cold and radiates heat into space.

The nothingness of space is why it is black, also. There is no air to scatter light. Stars shine with brilliant steadiness.

Up ahead shines Mars, and soon you'll know for yourself just what his "canals" really are.

Hoboes No Longer Frequent Jungles

LOS ANGELES —The king of the hoboes says the knights of the road no longer frequent hobo jungles—they are solvent, well-dressed, solid citizens.

Jeff Davis, 74, president of Hoboes of America, Inc., said the new look stems from changing conditions following World War II.

'Human Torch' Story Said False

ELIZABETH, N. J. —Police described as untrue the story of a 14-year-old boy who told them that three youths doused him with kerosene and lit it.

Detective Frederick Schlauch, who questioned the boy later, said the youth, James Kulpa, is in fair condition at Alexian Brothers Hospital with second degree burns of the thighs and legs.

Schlauch quoted the boy as saying he told a different story to police after the incident Sunday because he did not want his parents to punish him.

Canton Council Delays Action on Job Law

CANTON — Council Monday night delayed for a week action on a proposed fair employment practices ordinance. The law was recommended by Council's Welfare Committee, which had received no objections to it at a public hearing. But councilman Lawrence Weaver moved it be tabled because of its "wide effect."

Woman 'Came Up Hard Way' In Transportation Position

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON —Dr. Beatrice Aitchison, one of the nation's few women transportation economists, says she "came up the hard way" to become the first woman in a top level policy position in the Postoffice Department.

She served 15 years as a career government employee before her appointment in 1953 as postoffice director of transportation research. She likes her job.

Specifically, Dr. Aitchison's task is finding better, cheaper and faster ways of moving mail between points in the United States.

"We want to get the mail home as fast as we can," she explained. "We have to move letters, packages and circulars to and from any place in the United States. This is the equivalent of being ready to jump any one of a billion and a half ways at any time."

About half the postmasters in the country are women. Many women deliver the mail often under great hardships and over hazardous routes.

"Women are tough," Dr. Aitchison says. "One working in an isolated area just retired after 37 years with not one hour of sick leave. Another uses a jeep mostly. When she can't, she uses her horse. Sometimes she has to walk."

She is Eva T. Crank of Hattie, Mo., whose route crosses four unbridged streams in the Ozarks.

During high water cars and trucks line up and wait for her to come and measure the depth of the water with the horse. If it's only knee deep on the horse cars can cross. If it's above knee deep, only trucks. If it's "belly deep" no one but the mail carrier on the horse gets through.

Dr. Aitchison inherited her interest in transportation economics from her father, Dr. Clyde B. Aitchison, now 83, a former member of the Oregon Railroad Commission and member of the Interstate Commerce Commission from 1917 to 1952. The two make their home together in a pleasant nine-room house.

Man Finds Wife Dead, Then He Dies, Too

MAYSVILLE, Okla. — A doctor said a traveling salesman discovered his wife dead in their car here, and shortly afterwards was found dead in the same car after he had notified his family. The doctor said both deaths apparently were caused by heart attacks.

The victims were identified as John Hugh Wilson, about 75, and Mrs. Florence Wilson, 75, of Oklahoma City.

May-December Marriages Become Common in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Bing Crosby's wedding to a girl the same age as one of his sons follows the trend in May-December marriages in Hollywood. And, perhaps surprisingly, such marriages have had a good average in a town where divorce is sometimes considered a way of life.

There is 30 years' difference between Bing and his bride, Kathy

Grant. Far from being a handicap, the gap is considered an advantage by some observers of the filmland scene. Take a look at the record.

Many of Hollywood's mature leading men have chosen wives decades younger than themselves. And several female stars have married older men in recent years. It's true that such alliances are often second, third or fourth marriages. But they have stuck where others failed.

William Powell set the pattern in 1940. He chose as his third wife an MGM starlet, Diana Lewis. He was 47; she could barely vote. Hollywood gave the marriage six months. The Powells are still happily wed.

Humphrey Bogart, 45, had a headline romance with his young leading lady, Lauren Bacall, 21. No one gave her a chance to accomplish what three other women had failed to do—tame Bogart. But she did it, and his last decade was the happiest of his life.

Rudy Vallee was another three-time loser. In 1949, he married a University of California coed, Eleanor Norris. Though he was 29 years older, their marriage has remained constant.

Twice-divorced Cary Grant was another star who fell in love with his leading lady, Betsy Drake. When they married, he was 46, she was 26. They are one of the town's most devoted couples.

Saddened by the death of his first wife, Fred MacMurray found companionship with June Haver. They married when he was 45 and she was 28.

Older women were among Clark Gable's first four wives. As his fifth, he chose Kay Spreckels, 20 years his junior. Robert Taylor married Ursula Theiss, a dozen years younger than he, and Gregory Peck, at 39, wed a 22-year-old French girl, Veronique Passanie.

Among the female stars, Elizabeth Taylor wed showman Mike Todd, a grandfather with a son older than luscious Liz. Jennifer Jones appears to be happy with her older husband, producer David Selznick.

Plant Chief Is Suicide

CHARDON —The plant manager of the Chardon Rubber Co., 46-year-old Burdwell A. Bican, was found hanged in the basement of his home Monday. He had been ill for two years.

Anti-Union Shop Drive Set in Ohio

WASHINGTON — Backers of anti-union shop legislation, encouraged by success this year in Indiana, now are planning stepped up campaigns in other industrialized Midwest states.

They said today activity aimed at right to work laws for Michigan, Ohio and Illinois will be accelerated during the next two years.

The National Right to Work Committee has listed Michigan and Ohio among its big goals during the next two years.

W. T. Harrison, the committee's executive secretary, said it has not been decided whether campaigns in the three heavily unionized states will be aimed at trying to push anti-union shop bills through the Legislature or at bringing the issue to a public vote on the ballot.

A right to work law was enacted by the Indiana Legislature last winter, the first time such a law has been put into effect in a northern industrial state. Eighteen states, most of them in the south, now have anti-union shop laws.

Such a law bars the union shop contract, under which a worker must join the union after a specified period of employment.

Unions call the right to work movement a thinly disguised attempt by right wing businessmen to destroy organized labor.

Harrison said that in Ohio a committee consisting solely of "workers" has been incorporated. Lloyd Risor, a railroad conductor, is chairman.

The national committee contends this "rather forcibly refutes the union leaders' claims that opposition to compulsory union membership stems only from 'big business' interests."
